SUMMARY

The Council is being asked to approve the installation of the “Where the Crow Lights” mural by artist John Pugh as Public Art upon the western wall of the Elks Building at 247 E Main Street.

POLICIES, PLANS & GOALS SUPPORTED

- Resolution No. 2016-29: A Resolution Adopting Guidelines for the Creation And Installation Of Mural
  - Public Arts Murals Guidelines and Process
- Public Arts Master Plan
- Comprehensive Plan – Transportation Element: Policy #7 Encourage public art along multi-modal travel corridors.

BACKGROUND AND ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

The Public Arts Advisory Committee (PAAC) was approached by the muralist John Pugh about the proposal in September and October of 2022. Following a series of refinements based on suggestions from the PAAC and the Historic Preservation Advisory Committee Mr. Pugh presented the resulting concept to both committees in December 2023.

John Pugh is an accomplished muralist well-known in the arena of public art for his works done throughout the world. He has gained recognition for his unique and innovative trompe l'oeil style featuring realistic architectural elements and optical illusions of depth and perspective. Pugh's style is characterized by his attention to detail and realistic representation of texture, light, and shadow. He creates a sense of depth and perspective in his murals, making it appear as though the scene depicted is real and exists beyond the wall.

The proposed mural for the wall of the Elk’s Building in downtown Ashland incorporated a “production set theme” focused on the story of Ashland’s Lithia Park. The central dome is representative of the historic Chautauqua dome that once stood in the park. The interior of the dome evokes landscape imagery reminiscent of “A Midsummer Night’s Dream” with painted theatrical lights pointing at the scene to evoke a stage like presentation. Allegorical figures and animals set this environment and include a Native American woman adorned in native Takelma dress, crows representing the original name of the area “K’wakhakha, “Where the Crow lights” perch atop the dome, and natural features such as Mt. McLaughlin (Klamath name: M’laiksini Yaina), and Mount Ashland, are visible in the background.

Detail

The Public Art Advisory Committee (PAAC) initially reviewed the concept initially at their meeting on April 15, 2022, and reviewed examples of John Pugh's completed public art works which demonstrate how the architectural illusions presented appear in real world settings. The PAAC recommended for approval (5-1) of the mural at their meeting on October 21, 2022.

The Historic Preservation Advisory Committee (HPAC) reviewed the proposed mural at multiple meetings over the course of 2022. On April 6th, 2022 the HPAC reviewed an early iteration of the mural concept in relation to the City's Public Art Murals Guidelines and Process which stipulates that murals proposed for installation on the exterior of structures listed on the National Register of Historic Places, or upon a contributing property within a Historic District such as 247 E. Main Street, be forwarded to the HPAC for review. The HPAC is charged to provide their recommendations to the City Council and Public Arts Advisory Committee. The HPAC reviewed the revised proposal on December 7th, 2022 and voted (5 -1) to approve both the location and the content presented in the mural concept, and recommend approval to the City Council and PAAC.

Mural Durability and B-72

B-72 is a state-of-the-art new approach to making a mural last generations. It's completely resistant to the elements and is so strong that even if the mural gets tagged, any strong solvents can be used to remove the graffiti without damaging the mural.

When sprayed on the mural, this product penetrates and replaces the acrylic binding without disturbing the pigment. Murals that look faded or even "gone" can be attributed to the oxidation of the acrylic binding. When acrylic binding oxidizes - usually from a combination of sun, water, especially sea water - it creates micro fractures in the binding (like a cracked windshield). This obscures the mural to the point of eventually appearing fading beyond recognition.

On a quality acrylic mural the life expectancy for a south / west facing exposure (northern hemisphere) could be from about 10 to 15 years, and a north / east facing exposure could be from 15 to 30 years. Yet assuming that the mural artist used only the finest color-fast pigments, the mural will, with simple maintenance, become a permanent public art form, and last 100 years. Like mosaics or bronze sculpture, B-72 breaks the stigma or paradigm that murals do not have long lives.

Rick Briley and Wayne Winiiecki of 'Mural Medics' are experts on B-72 and it's application. I've worked with Rick and Wayne over the years, and believe they are the go-to-guys for B-72 and for spraying the coating for mural protection. They've used this product on murals that seemed to be faded beyond recognition, and the results were like magic. Some murals were restored to the point that they looked like the day they were painted.

For further information and spraying application of B-72, Please contact Rick Briley at 760 668-1744 or email at: rick.briley@muralmedic.com
